BASTARDY PAPERS
1813-1913
Arranged: Chronological by File Date

Dept.: County Clerk
.5 cubic ft
Restricted - 100 yrs.

Historical Note:

According to an act of legislature passed by New York State on 5 March 1801, municipalities were entitled to "secure relief from the maintenance of bastard children." Procedures were established and carried out before the Court of General Sessions, during which Overseers of the Poor introduced their claim for reimbursement from reputed fathers in anticipation of defraying the cost of the support of such children. Revised Statutes of 1829 (published 1836), Part I, Ch. XX, Title 6, Section 1-73 provide ample detail into the procedures used during the 19th century.

Description:

.1 A record used by the court to establish the paternity of bastard children in an effort to relieve the counties of any undue burdens of support.

.2 Handwritten records including affidavits, replies, testimony, recognizance, appeal and final orders containing defendant name, information on maternity (including mother's name, confinement and birth information), and, within the final order, the amount of payment being sought from the father, as well as court, date and filing information. Also known as Orders of Filiation, Order of Affiliation, Overseer of Poor Bond (Warrant), Bond. OCA Schedule # 20180.

Other Formats, Finding Aids & Related Series:

.1 Name index 1813-1913 (paper & computerized) available. Series locations on inventory database.

.2 Related series include: Recognizance 1814-1909, Almshouse Records.

INDEXES

(PAPER and COMPUTER)

Indexing Books

- Keep it simple, the fewer fields you index the faster you'll accomplish the job.
- Use spreadsheet or database software such as Excel, MSworks, Microsoft Office Access, Open Office
- Suggested fields: Seq#; Lname; Fname; Date; Year; page #.
- Use common sense when deciding what to index.

Hints

- Think about what you want to index in fields.
- ex. If indexing court or justice records index just the plaintiffs, defendants and witnesses.
- Don't bother indexing names of justices, district attorneys, or juries (their names can all be found in other record series)

Hints

- Format Date field to show just MM,DD
- Year field should be numeric YYYY.
- To create a combined name field insert a column after Lname field and Fname field
- Insert the formula +Lname&”, “&Fname

Archivedex

- What is an Archivedex?

- As you create a paper index for each record series using Excel, Msworks, Microsoft Access you can combine the common fields of Name, Year and input the record series name.

- Just cut and paste the Name field, Year and input the Record Series.

Your new “Archivedex” will contain the fields:

Historical Background	According to an act of legislature passed by New York State on 5 March 1801, municipalities were entitled to "secure relief from the maintenance of bastard children." Procedures were established and carried out before the Court of General Sessions, during which Overseers of the Poor introduced their claim for reimbursement from reputed fathers in anticipation of defraying the cost of the support of such children. Revised Statutes of 1829 (published 1836), Part I, Ch. XX, Title 6, Section 1-73 provide ample detail into the procedures used during the 19th century.
Description of Record Series	Handwritten records including affidavits, replies, testimony, recognizance, appeal and final orders containing defendant name, information on maternity (including mother's name, confinement and birth information), and, within the final order, the amount of payment being sought from the father, as well as court, date and filing information. Also known as Orders of Filiation, Order of Affiliation, Overseer of Poor Bond (Warrant), Bond. OCA Schedule # 20180
Purpose of Record	A record used by the court to establish the paternity of bastard children in an effort to relieve the counties of any undue burdens of support.

Historical Background	A small but significant part of the Warren County archival collection includes various records documenting our role in servicing the poor. Prior to the Acts of the New York Legislature c. 1824-1827, the care of the poor rested with the town with government reimbursing citizens willing to take in the less fortunate. With the passage of legislation in the mid-1820's, greater responsibility was passed to counties to provide appropriate care and support to those individuals of such indigent circumstances that relief was required. The original laws, additions, and amendments charged counties with obtaining property in order to establish poorhouse, appointing a superintendent and keeper, and bearing the cost of all expenditures. State oversight was much in evidence with the creation of the State Board of Charities in 1867. With the passage of Chapter 140 of the Laws of 1875 came the creation of perhaps the most detailed and historically valuable of all almshouse records. Warren County's Almshouse Admission Records, more commonly known as the Record of Inmates, were kept by Warren County from 1875 to 1979, with information contained within predating the original entry dates. According to the original instruction, copies of inmate information were forwarded to the State on the first of each month on blanks furnished for this purpose and are available under the series entitled Census of Inmates 1875-1921. The Almshouse as created in the 1800's represents an era that is no longer. However, the social, cultural, demographics, and family history of a county, its people and its times survive in the records that we hold now in our custody.
Description of Record Series	Preprinted bound volumes, with each entry form providing the following: name of inmate, age, residence, family origin, social standing, education, occupation, cause of dependence, admit and discharge information; in some cases birth, death, and burial dates may be entered. Varying titles: Record of Inmates. CO-2 Item # 634
Purpose of Record	A detailed record of all inmates (adults as well as children) supported by the county and housed in the county almhouse, exclusive of "State paupers and tramps", required according to Chapter 140 of Laws of 1875, in effort to provide for a better system of records of inmates of poorhouses; passed April 22, 1875, effective October 1, 1875.
Other Formats	None
Finding Aids	Bound Indexed by name w/ entry date and Book # 1855-1905. Volumes have self-contained indexes. Series locations on inventory database.
